NCERT books to be available in Tamil from 2023

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Coimbatore

UNION minister of Education, Skill Development and Entrepreneurship Dharmendra Pradhan said that under the National Education Policy (NEP), all NCERT books will be published in Tamil and other regional languages.

Speaking at the 34th convocation of the Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science and Higher Education for Women in Coimbatore on Saturday, he said, "To teach, read and write in one's mother tongue in foundational years is vital. The Prime Minister has emphatically said that everyone must learn their mother tongue. All mother tongues are the national language of India and no language is better than other languages. Although our country is multi-lingual and multi-cultural, our spirit is one."

"The NEP is not just a document. Till now NCERT published books only in English and Hindi. From the academic year 2023-24 the books will be published in all languages including Tamil, Telugu, Punjabi, Odia, Bengali and Assamese. The foundational course should be taught in mother tongue, which is the primary aim of the NEP.

"NEP has recommended re-vamping of the University Grants Commission, which is a multi-regulatory body. New Higher Education Commission India will have different autonomous authorities to execute the roles," he said, adding that the gross enrolment in schools of girls is ahead of boys with 27%, which will reach 50% soon.

He added, "Tamil is the oldest language of the civilization and the people present are fortunate to be part of the ancient language."

The minister handed over degrees to 2,704 students from various fields, including 52 PhD and two M.Phil students. Chancellor of the institution Professor SP Thyagarajan and Dr V Bharathi Harishankar, Vice Chancellor of the institution presided over the graduation.

2 more die in Vembakottai cracker unit blast

Baby Fireworks unit was inspected by a team hours before the explosion, but no remedial action was taken in time

HARINI M @Virudhunagar

TWO more persons who were receiving treatment at Government Rajaji Hospital (GRH) in Madurai for burn injuries sustained during the explosion at Baby Fireworks unit in Thailpatti village near Vembakottai three days ago, died on Saturday taking the toll to four.

Meanwhile, it has come to light that the district administration's joint inspection team had inspected the Baby Fireworks unit just a few hours before the explosion took place around 3.30 pm on Thursday. The team had detected violations, but the accident happened before any remedial action could be taken.

District collector J Meghanath Reddy said the district administration was not able to immediately evacuate the workers after the inspection. "Officials normally submit reports on the same day and subsequent actions will be taken. The officials have now been instructed to inform immediately in case of violations. Remedial action will be taken immediately," the collector added.

While M Muneeswari (30) and M Shankar (65) died on the spot, M Marimuthu (56) and S Karupasamy (26) with 100% burn injuries, and M Rajkumar with 80% burns were admitted to GRH. On Saturday, Marimuthu and Karupasamy died, while Rajkumar's condition is also critical.

Among the 31 rooms at the cracker unit, seven got gutted and a few other rooms sustained damages | EXPRESS

Preliminary police investigation revealed that the cracker unit owners had leased the facility to V Kandhasamy and the workers were not provided adequate safety gear. Kandhasamy and the actual owners T Mayakannan and his wife M Arumugathai, along with R Kannan, who was involved in mixing the chemicals, have been booked under sections of the Explosives Act. "Kannan was arrested on Friday and two special teams have been formed to trace the remaining three suspects who are on the run," a senior police official said.

Among the 31 rooms at the cracker unit, seven got gutted and a few other rooms sustained damages. Around 35 people sustained minor injuries.
